City Fire Alarm and Police Telegraph.

James P. Kennedy, Supt., room 7, City Hall.

Instructions to Watchmen and Key Holders.

Upon discovery or positive information of a fire near your box, you will give an alarm by pulling down the hook once as far as it will go, and then letting it go. Then wait a few moments, and if you hear no alarm from the large bells or gongs, pull the hook down again; if you still hear no alarm, go to the nearest box and give the alarm from that. Never give an alarm for a fire seen at a distance. Do not give an alarm for a burning chimney.

U. S. GOVERNMENT.

The Federal Constitution is the Fundamental law. Under it the government is divided into three departments or branches, viz.:

EXECUTIVE—President and Commander-in-Chief, etc.

LEGISLATIVE—Congress, Senate and House of Representatives.

JUDICIAL—Supreme, District and Circuit Courts.

Neither of these departments or branches can legally or constitutionally exercise any power or authority belonging to, or vested in, either of the other departments.

PLACES OF INTEREST FOR VISITORS TO SEE.

Visitors to the city of New Orleans, who wish to visit the PRINCIPAL PLACES OF INTEREST AND AMUSEMENT, will find the annexed list one that will prove an excellent guide. It includes also the environs of New Orleans, which afford many agreeable retreats, and a visit to any or all of them will repay the pleasure seeker.

Amusements---Theatrical, Opera, Etc.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC—David Bidwell, Propr. and Manager, 90 and 92 St. Charles.

FARANTA'S THEATRE—Bourbon, cor. Orleans streets.

GRAND OPERA HOUSE—David Bidwell, Lessee and Manager, ns. Canal, bet. Dauphine and Burgundy.

GRUNEWALD OPERA HOUSE—Baronne street, bet. Canal and Common.

ST. CHARLES THEATRE—David Bidwell. Propr. and Manager, 102 St. Charles.

THEATRE DE L'OPERA—(French Opera), Bourbon, cor. Toulouse.

SAITER'S OPERA HOUSE—(Light Opera, Summer Season only), at Spanish Fort, Lake End.

WERLEIN THEATRE—Baronne, se. cor. Perdido street.

WEST END OPERA HOUSE—(Light Opera, Summer Season only), at West End, Lake End.

Miscellaneous.

WEST END, OR NEW LAKE END—Is one of the most frequented resorts on the shores of Lake Pontchartrain. Here are located some fine hotels, many splendid restaurants, saloons, boat houses, etc., and may be reached by the New Shell Road, a favorite drive, or by the steam trains of the New Orleans City & Lake Railroad Company; leaving from cor. Canal and Carondelet street. During the summer season all kinds of amusements are to be seen here, such as opera, fine orchestra music, fire-works at stated times, etc., etc.

SPANISH FORT—This has always been a point of interest, owing to its associations, besides its historical interest and association with the landing of the defender and savior of our city, has other interesting associations extending far back into the colonial history of the State, and may be reached by the Old Shell Road, commencing at Esplanade st. and Bayou bridge, or by the steam trains of the New Orleans, Spanish Fort and Lake Railroad; depot, corner Canal and Basin streets. In the spring and summer season there are many amusements tendered the public at this popular resort. Light Opera—having a fine Opera House erected for the occasion—orchestra music, etc., fine hotels, restaurants, saloons, etc., are to be found here.

MILNEBERG—Or, as it is more popularly known, the "Old Lake End," is the terminus of the Pontchartrain Railroad. It is directly on the banks of the Old Lake, and the cool air always prevailing, the sails, fishing and bathing to be enjoyed, make it a favorite resort with all who wish to enjoy the day away from the brick and mortar of the Crescent City. Take steam trains at Depot, cor. Elysian Fields and Esplanade streets. Carriage drive to this resort via Spanish Fort. (See under Drives.)

CARROLLTON GARDENS—St. Charles, bet. Carrollton av. and Madison, 7th Dist. The trip to Carrollton is deservedly one of the most popular excursions in the neighborhood of our city. The green cars from the corner of Canal and Baronne streets, only a short distance from the principal hotels and boarding-houses, take passengers through one of the pleasantest avenues, lined by palatial residences and smiling gardens to that suburban district of New Orleans. Here are situated the Carrollton Gardens, which for many years have been a favorite resort with our people, and a place much admired by strangers. The spacious walks are lined with the choicest flowers, whose bloom and fragrance are especially attractive to those who come from the North, where snow and ice greet the eye on every hand.

SCHROEDER'S GARDENS—Short, ne. cor. Levee, 7th Dist., formerly Carrollton. Take same cars as for Carrollton Gardens.

HALF WAY HOUSE—Situated just over the bridge at the intersection of Canal street and the New Canal (Metairie Ridge), and accessible by the Canal street cars, fare five cents each way. In the near neighborhood are the Metairie, Greenwood and others beautiful cemeteries, situated half way between the City and Lake End; here commences the New Shell road.

MILTIMORE'S ROAD HOUSE—Situated on this side of the bridge and just before crossing. Accessible by, and surrounded same as Half Way House. Good stabling accommodations and fine liquid refreshments here.

LOUISIANA JOCKEY CLUB—House and grounds located on Esplanade street, near Bayou St. John. An elegant club house and beautiful grounds for entertainment of visitors, etc. Take Esplanade street line of cars at Canal street.

Louisiana Jockey Club Race Course, at site of former Fair grounds, Esplanade street, near Bayou St. John. Spring and winter meetings given yearly under auspices of club, at which some of the finest stables in the country are represented. Take Esplanade street line of cars at Canal street.

FAIR GROUNDS—Gently road east of Esplanade street, now the new Louisiana Jockey Club race course.

THE FRENCH MARKET—Is the largest mart in the South, and no one is considered to be familiar with the city until he has been there. The best time to visit the market is in the mornings from 5 to 10 o'clock, and Sundays being the great day. It extends from St. Ann to Ursulines, between St. Peter and Decatur streets. A fine view is also to be seen here of the shipping, and of the Cathedral and Court House, Jackson Square, etc. Take horse cars in front of the Custom House, corner Canal and Decatur streets.

CATHEDRAL AND COURT HOUSES—Situated on Chartres street, between St. Peter and St. Ann.

The St. Louis Cathedral. This ancient, sacred edifice stands a link between the far past and the present time, an object alike of veneration and curiosity. The altars, three in number, are master-pieces of religious expression in their design. This grand old church will ever be an object of interest to the refined and cultivated, whether citizens or visitors.

THE GULF SHORE—Persons wishing to spend a few days on the Gulf shore, will find many pleasant resorts along the line of the Louisville and Nashville Railroad. Trains are run on the road to suit the convenience of those wishing to visit Biloxi, Bay St. Louis, Pass Christian, Mississippi City, Beauvoir, etc. All of these places front the Gulf. Pass Christian has one of the handsomest sea-side hotels in the South, and Beauvoir is noted as the home of Jefferson Davis, ex-President of the Confederacy. All kinds of game abounds in the vicinity of these resorts, and the waters of the Gulf are filled with every variety of fish.

EAD'S JETTIES—A trip that many will find interesting, is to the famous Ead's Jetties, at South Pass, 110 miles from the city, excursion boats leaving at intervals as per notice in daily paper. An excellent opportunity for viewing the larg.

sugar and rice plantations and orange groves on this trip.

LAKE PROTECTION LEVEE—Located at the New Lake or West End.

NEW ORLEANS ROW BOAT CLUB—Located at West End.

THE WORLD'S EXPOSITION—Opened on the 16th of December, 1884, and to remain open till May 31, 1885. The buildings, some of which are unusually handsome, located on the Upper City Park, a beautiful tract of ground donated by the City Government for the purpose, and easily accessible to the centre of New Orleans by both land and water. The scope of the Exposition is exceedingly large and in many respects will surpass the Centennial Exposition at Philadelphia. It is the only exposition since 1876 that has received the official authority and sanction of the U. S. Government, and consequently is the only one that has obtained recognition from foreign powers. The cars of the Annunciation, Tchoupitoulas, Camp and Prytanica, Canal and Coliseum, Carrollton and Magazine street lines run to the Park, leaving Canal street every five minutes, fare five cents each way, also steamboats will make trips at stated intervals, fare twenty-five cents each way.

EXPOSITION GROUNDS AND UPPER CITY PARK—Is a tract of land containing about two hundred and sixty-five acres. It is splendidly located; here are erected the buildings of the World's Exposition. The Park is bounded by St. Charles av., the river bank, and between Calhoun and Walnut streets, and is about six blocks above Nashville av.; accessible by same lines of cars as above, also by drive up St. Charles avenue, by boats on the Mississippi River, etc.

LOWER CITY PARK—Fronting on the Metairie road, between the old and new canals, contains an area of about half a square mile, and was bequeathed over twenty odd years ago to the city by the late John McDonogh. It is famous for the live oak trees that grow within its limits, and is a favorite resort for pic nics, etc.

OAKLAND RIDING PARK—On New Shell road, near Metairie road, next to Half-Way House.

CRESCENT PLEASURE PARK—Next to and joins the Oakland Park.

SEAMEN'S UPPER BETHEL—Situated on St. Thomas street, near Jackson, 4th District.

STEAMBOAT LANDING—On Levee, between Poydras and St. Louis. A fine view of the same from foot of Canal street, also shipping, etc., North and South beyond these bounds.

STEAMSHIP LANDING—On Levee, between St. Joseph and Jackson streets, also on Levee, beyond St. Louis street to city limits. Here will be found some large steam and sailing vessels, stowing away in their capacious holds thousands of bales of cotton. To those who have never visited a seaport, this is a very interesting operation to witness.

N. O. GRAIN ELEVATOR—Located on the river, at S. Water street, between Harmony and Pleasant.

REVTMENT LEVEE—Located at West End, (Lake resort.)

THE UNITED STATES MINT—Is also a place of much interest. It is located on Esplanade, cor. of North Peters street. Take cars properly marked on Canal street.

UNITED STATES BARRACKS—A trip to the barracks is considered one of the pleasantest excursions in the neighborhood of New Orleans. The distance from Canal street is about three and three quarter miles, and the whole distance may be accomplished by the street cars at the expense of five cents each way. The buildings used by the French government and afterwards by the Federal authorities, as a barracks, were located on Chartres street, just below the present residence of Archbishop Le Ray. The present site was well chosen and the arrangements of the place are perfect and complete. Take cars properly marked on Canal street.

THE U. S. CUSTOM HOUSE—Situated on Canal street, between Decatur and N. Peters streets, occupying one entire block. The Marble Hall on the second floor is considered one of the finest rooms in any public building, being entirely marble with many solid marble Corinthian columns making it a grand sight. From the top of this building a full view of the city can be had.

THE POST OFFICE—Is situated on the ground floor of the Custom House building, main entrance facing Decatur street.

THE FEDERAL CEMETERY—Known as "Chalmette" and as the "National Cemetery," is situated at Chalmette on the celebrated battle field where Gen'l Jackson almost destroyed the English under Gen'l Packenham, is situated about one and a half miles below the U. S. Barracks, from the original lookout where Jackson directed the movements of the Americans, and the entire field of action may be seen as well as the group of trees in the distance where Packenham fell. The Cemetery takes in some portion of the field works; and there are now buried over thirteen thousand soldiers of the late war, representing every State in the Union. It is as beautiful a spot as can be found in any part of the world. The surroundings are kept alive by our singing birds which abound in great numbers, and flowers are in bloom all seasons of the year. This spot should be visited by all strangers coming to this city. The Levee and Barracks street cars, leaving Canal opposite the U. S. Customhouse, as well as the Rampart and Dauphine street line starting from Clay Statue, Canal street, run within a short distance of the Cemetery. Fare five cents each way; also accessible by a drive down the River Bank and by the Steam Trains of the Shell Beach Railroad; depot, Elysian Fields, cor. St. Claude street.

WASHINGTON ARTILLERY ARSENAL—This elegant building is situated on St. Charles street, between Julia and Girod streets, about seven blocks from Canal street, and has a front of 85 feet on both St. Charles and Carondelet street and runs through the square by straight lines 341 feet.

CONTINENTAL GUARDS—Armory situated on Camp street, opposite the Lafayette square, about six blocks from Canal street, on the lower floor of the Old Fellows' Hall, contains many relics of interest connected with the wars of 1776 and 1861, and is constantly visited by strangers. The guards at all times welcome strangers, and a visit to their armory is at all times made pleasant.

TIMOTHY O. HOWE POST NO. 3, G. A. R.—193 Gravier. This post is elegantly fitted up, and extends a cordial welcome to all strangers visiting the city.

THE FIRE INSURANCE PATROL—No. 162 Julia street, between Camp and St. Charles, and about eighth blocks from Canal street, acts in connection with the Fire Department. This corps is noted for its rapidity of action, well trained horses and admirable discipline of its employes and also its well kept house. Strangers visiting the headquarters of this corps will be always well received and the full workings of the corps explained to them.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON EXCHANGE—An elegant new building erected in 1882 at a cost of a quarter of a million, which is situated on Carondelet street, n.w. cor. Gravier, was inaugurated in February, 1871, with a roll of 100 members, which, after dwindling down to about eighty, increased, under a system of daily news concerning the staple such as had never before been gotten up in this country, and the development of its wise rules and regulations, to upwards of 400

COTTON PRESSES—These presses, which are located nearest to the business centre of the city, are in operation from about the 1st of September to the 1st of June.

Canal Street Press, ns. Canal, bet. Robertson and Claiborne, 2d Dist.

Cooper's Press, S. Peters, cor. Thalia.

Crescent City Press, Tchoupitoulas, bet. Robin and Race.

Empire Press, Front, bet. Erato and Thalia.

Fire Proof Press, S. Front, cor. Robin.

International Press, S. Peters, cor. Gaiennie.

Liverpool Press, Elato, bet. Delta and Front.

PRODUCE EXCHANGE—Situated in Arcade Place, between Gravier and Natchez, and Magazine and Tchoupitoulas streets. A very convenient and new building specially erected for the purpose of this Exchange.

SUGAR EXCHANGE—Located on the Levee, foot of Bienville street, and two blocks north of Canal street. A new building suited to the purpose; erected 1883.

STOCK EXCHANGE—29 Carondelet street.

AUCTIONEERS' EXCHANGE—Rotunda St. Charles Hotel, and 40 to 46 Magazine street.

MECHANICS', DEALERS' AND LUMBER MEN'S EXCHANGE—187 Gravier, between Carondelet and Baronne streets.

MEXICAN EXCHANGE—124 Common street, between Camp and St. Charles streets.

THE PARISH PRISONS—These edifices, which are three stories high and built of brick, at a cost of about $200,000, are situated on north side of Orleans street, between N. Liberty and Marais streets, occupying 123 feet on each, and a space of 139 feet between them. They are two in number, divided by a wide passage-way. The main building has its principal entrance on Orleans street, which is closed by strong iron doors. The lower story is used as offices and apartments of the jailor. The second and third stories are used for prisoners, and are divided into large rooms. The building is surrounded by a pavilion with an alarm bell. Visiting days are Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, from 9 a. m. to 3½ p. m. The Bayou Road, Dumaine and Dauphine street cars, on Canal street, run to the prison. Get off at Congo square.

THE ICE MANUFACTORY—At 56 to 62 S. Front street, near Poydras, is worthy of a visit.

SUGAR SHEDS—River Front, on Levee, at foot of Bienville street, two blocks north of Canal street. An interesting sight to those who wish to learn how the great staple of Louisiana is handled, etc.

SLAUGHTER HOUSE—On North Peters, near City limits. This concern tends to killing most all the live stock slaughtered in New Orleans.

CEMETERIES—Most worthy of a visit, will mention the Metairie, Firemen's and Greenwood Cemeteries, situated at Metairie Ridge, reached by the Canal street cars, and steam trains of N. O. C. & L. R. R. Co., from Clay statue on Canal street.

In Greenwood is located the Confederate monument, erected by the ladies of New Orleans.

National Cemetery at Chalmette, reached by the Levee street cars, and a walk of about a mile on the river bank, or you can dispense with the walk by taking the trains of the Shell Beach R. R. at depot, Elysian Fields and St. Claude streets.

St. Louis Cemeteries, Nos. 1, 2 and 3, on Claiborne, between Customhouse and St. Louis streets. (For full list of Cemeteries see last pages of Guide.)

RESIDENCES—The private residences of New Orleans are generally models of comfort and artistic taste. Gardens filled with choice flowers and rare plants are found in all quarters of the city. If the visitor wishes to see some of the palatial houses of the Crescent City, visit Esplanade, St. Charles, Coliseum, Prytanée, First, Second and other streets, and view as elegant and attractive residences as can be found in any city on this side of the Atlantic.

PRINCIPAL HALLS AND BUILDINGS.

CITY HALL—Corner of St. Charles and Lafayette streets, contains the different municipal business rooms, treasurer's office, lyceum, Council chamber and library, etc. It is a large, commodious and handsome structure of brick, marble and stone. The front is of the Grecian Doric order, and remarkable for the graceful beauty of its stately columns.

TULANE HALL (formerly Mechanics' Institute).—This substantial and stately building is on the east side of Dryades street, near Canal, and is one of the finest in the city, and is now occupied by the Academical Department of the University of Louisiana. On the lower floor is the Fisk Free Library, which fine collection of books is open to the public at large. Office hours from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. It was in this edifice that the State Senate and House of Representatives met previous to the selection of the St. Louis Hotel for a State House.

OLD MASONIC HALL, situated on St. Charles street, cor. of Perdido, and three blocks from Canal street. The Masonic Grand bodies and most of the Lodges occupy this centrally located building.

NEW MASONIC HALL—(proposed), fronts St. Charles avenue, just above Lee Place, and is of large dimensions, having a front of 147 feet, depth 92 feet, and two wings 38 feet wide by 84 feet deep. The corner stone was laid February 15, 1872, with all the solemn and imposing rites of Masonic ceremonies. It is a very beautiful block of granite from the mountains of Georgia, and a present from the Grand Lodge of that State.

ODD FELLOWS' HALL—Situated on Camp street, bet. Poydras and Lafayette, facing Lafayette Square. The lodge-rooms are said to be without equal for arrangements and appointments. The ground floor is occupied as an armory by the famous Continental Guards.

TOURO BUILDINGS—Located on the north side of Canal street, bet. Royal and Bourbon streets, and occupying the entire face of the square. Here are located the handsomest retail trade palaces in the city.

GRUNEWALD HALL—Now Grunewald Opera House, ws. Baronne, bet. Canal and Common.

WERLEIN HALL—Now Werlein Theatre, Baronne, se. cor. Perdido, three blocks from Canal street.

PICKWICK CLUB—This magnificent building is situated on the corner of Canal and Carondelet streets, and is one of the handsomest club buildings in America.

For complete list of Halls and Buildings, see last pages of Guide.

PUBLIC SQUARES.

JACKSON SQUARE—Is a beautiful pleasure ground, bounded by Chartres, Decatur or Old Levee, St. Ann and St. Peter streets. It is the oldest public square in New Orleans, and is interesting, as well on account of its appearance as for its historical surroundings. This square was formerly called the Place d'Arms, but being selected as the site of the statue of Gen. Jackson, the old veteran's name was bestowed on it, while its former cognomen was transferred to another of our ancient parks.

A bronze equestrian statue of Gen. Jackson, the most conspicuous object in the square, stands in the center, on ground slightly elevated, based on an enormous block of granite, and protected by a tasteful iron railing. The statue represents the stern old hero in the full dress uniform of his day, lifting his military hat in salute, his ponderous sword hanging from his belt, and his left hand grasping the reins of his war steed.

Diverging from the statue in all directions are beautifully graded walks, bordered with the choicest flowers of the South, luxuriant vines and evergreens, which at all seasons of the year present a pleasing picture to the eye.

On the river front, a little distance from the square, is the renowned French Market, and facing the square is the Cathedral. Take horse cars in front of the Custom House.

LAFAYETTE SQUARE—Bounded by Camp, St. Charles, North and South streets, facing City Hall, and about six squares from Canal street, is a very handsome place. It is well laid off in regular walks, has also many handsome trees. A statue of the philosopher, Benjamin Franklin, is placed in the center of the square, a gift to the city from Charles A. Weed, at one time proprietor of the New Orleans Times.

LEE PLACE—Situated at intersection of St. Charles and Delord streets, and about eight squares from Canal street, and formerly known as Tivoli Circle, has been erected the Lee Monument, in memory of that illustrious General—Robert E. Lee.

CLAY STATUE—Erected to the memory of Henry Clay, situated in the Neutral Ground at intersection of Canal street, St. Charles street and Royal street.

MARGARET PLACE—Situated at junction of Camp and Prytanis, and between Caliope and Cho streets. Erected here is the Margaret Monument, in memory of Margaret Haughery, the orphan's friend.

COLISEUM PLACE—Camp street, between Melpomene and Felicity streets.

CONGO SQUARE—Now named Place d'Arms, situated on North Rampart street, between St. Peter and St. Ann streets, and six squares from Canal street. The Parish Prisons are located just in the rear of this square on Orleans street.

ANNUNCIATION SQUARE—Annunciation street, bet. Race and Orange streets.

CLAY SQUARE—Between Chippewa and Annunciation, Second and Third streets.

BEAUREGARD SQUARE—Late Douglas Square, between Third and Washington avenue, Howard and Freret streets.

INDEPENDENCE SQUARE—Between Urquhart and N. Robertson, Spain and Music streets.

KELLER SQUARE—Between Felicity and St. Andrew, Freret and Howard streets.

LAWRENCE SQUARE—Between Magazine and Camp, Napoleon avenue and Berlin streets.

MCCARTHY SQUARE—Between N. Rampart and Burgundy, Pauline and Jeanna streets.

WASHINGTON SQUARE—Between Royal and Dauphine, Frenchmen and Elysian Fields streets.

DRIVES.

(When in good condition.)

The favorite drive for the majority of visitors is on the Shell road to the New Lake End, via Canal street, known as WEST END route, out Canal street to the Metairie Ridge, where numerous cemeteries are located, crossing the bridge over the New Orleans Canal, facing the most handsome of all the cemeteries known as the Metairie. Here commences the famous Shell road, terminating at the lake.

Another most enjoyable drive is by Washington avenue, going up St. Charles street, passing Lee Place, and some of the most palatial residences of the city, till the avenue is reached.

The route to Carrollton is directly up St. Charles street and avenue, through the pleasantest vicinities in the city. Another very pleasant drive to Carrollton is to follow St. Charles avenue as far as Napoleon avenue, through that avenue and up the river bank.

One of the most rural in surroundings of our drives is that over the old Metairie Ridge road, out Canal street to the Half-Way House; to the right, pass directly forward between the house and the Metairie cemetery, down to the bridge. Here take the road towards the city, which leads through beautiful scenes to the rear of and above Carrollton, down the river bank to Napoleon avenue, thence to St. Charles street.

Gentilly Road—Canal to Claiborne street, down that street to Esplanade, thence to Gentilly road, and along the road for about three miles, passing the Fair Grounds and Jockey Club House and grounds.

A most interesting drive is down the river bank, passing immense cotton presses, all in full working order. The United States Barracks and the Ursuline Convent can both be visited by this route. The student of history will naturally wish to visit the battle ground, where glorious Old Hickory and his men achieved their victory. Chalmette is about five and three-quarter miles below the city, and a very pleasant method of reaching is by a drive down the river bank. Also the Shell Beach R. R. runs trains to the Cemetery from depot, corner of Elysian Fields and St. Claude streets.

Among the many ways of reaching the Fair Grounds is that of driving out Canal street to Broad, thence to Esplanade, and down the latter street to this delightful resort. Broad is a shell road, and is in excellent condition, while Esplanade is one of the most spacious and elegant avenues in the city. By continuing out Esplanade street to the Bayou bridge, and before crossing, turn to your right and you are on the old Shell Road, a very nice drive is this, the terminus being at the SPANISH FORT—Lake End—thence by a new shell road from Spanish Fort to Milneburg, which is now rebuilt. Splendid accommodation for carriages at any time at Washington Hotel.

THE CRESCENT CITY'S PECULIARITIES.

The first peculiarity noticeable is the CHARACTER OF THE SOIL.

The city is built on a vast plain, which has simply undergone, during ages immemorial, the various changes which the alluvial deposits of the mighty river have wrought. It may not be out of place to mention the geological theory that an arm of the sea formerly extended to Cairo, or the prognostication that the children of ages to come will see Havana and New Orleans connected by rail; for the work of deposit still goes on, and in the city the river has left a record yet within the reach of memory. The Custom House was, when started to be built, almost at the water's edge, and Tchoupitoulas street was formerly a marshy bank of the Mississippi. To-day both stand removed from the river by the intervention of the highest land in the city, and the distance is from five to six hundred yards. On soil like this, simply rich, alluvial mud, it is wonderful that such heavy edifices can be built; but practical builders, who know how to manage it, say that foundations are much better than they are credited. Very few well constructed buildings have cracked walls. True, some very heavy ones, notably the Custom House, have sunk; but when fully settled they are fixtures forever.

THE DRAINAGE OF THE CITY

is peculiar, for unlike other places fronting on rivers the sewerage runs from, instead of to, the water, and the wharves are the highest points of land. To the eye this latter fact is not perceptible, but it is nevertheless true that the fall back is some three feet to the mile; and the observer at Hagan avenue, about the lowest district in the city, looks up at the river some nine feet. This fact is thought to be a source of danger, yet the city, within the past two years, has successfully withstood two unprecedented floods.

STREETS AND NUMBERS

are perplexing in the extreme. The plain continuation of many streets have different names, and formerly, before city legislative action, a stranger would be exceedingly amused to find himself on a strange thoroughfare, though he had never deviated from the one on which he started. Even when the Council changed the name of one of these continuations, the old Creoles, their children and children's children, continue to call it by the ancient name. Thus we hear of Greatmen, Love and Bagatelle streets to this day, in face of the fact that the lamp signs for years have been Dauphine, North Rampart and Bourbon. The numbers have always been independent, and have evidently, in some cases, been affixed upon the convictions or fancies of property holders, rather than by the result of surveyors' lines. You may live at 403, and your vis-a-vis will, likely as not, be 320. You may live at 310, and your next door neighbor ten feet away, be 340; and, again, a block will contain but two houses, and the numbers on the gates be respectively 232 and 234, though the residences be at the corners of the square. Except in the business portion of the city, it is quite a little jaunt to walk the distance covered by a hundred numbers. When some of these large intervening spaces, now covered by a single number, are built up, it will be a sweet task to designate the numbers of the new building in the directory.

HOW THE PEOPLE LIVE.

Start with the poorer and laboring classes, and it is no unwarranted assertion that they are more comfortable than in any other large city of the world. There are no squalid, disease-breeding tenement houses here. The system is unknown. There is plenty of room; and, however humble he may be, a man can have a cottage to himself and family. Distance and carfare make rents only moderate; and, if in the suburbs the householder has a little garden or yard to his home. Excellent markets, and notably the French, one of the most celebrated in the world, supply him with most of his food, while groceries are as low here as anywhere in the Union. The five-cent piece is the standard of exchange here. Almost every article is measured off into "picayune" piles. The habit of buying in small quantities is an old Creole custom, and many well-to-do—even rich people—still adhere to it. It is an idea of economy, and prevents waste and theft by servants. Go into a grocery, call for a nickel's worth each of flour, tea, coffee, butter, lard, or anything, and nothing strange is thought of it—not even a reflection on your finances.

The whole city goes to market between the hours of 5 a. m. and noon. After that hour nothing can be purchased in the way of street marketing, and the reporter can call to mind no place in the whole city where a steak can be had after these rigorous hours. The markets are all promptly closed and are deserted, save by the coffee vendors, who never leave, day or night.

RAILROADS.

(See Business Directory.)

City Street Car System.

The city is the best in the world for street car facilities. Every line starts from the great artery, Canal street, and the passenger is returned to the starting point. No stranger can be lost. He is sure to eventually reach Canal street and recover his bearings. In this, a city of 240,000 inhabitants, there are 25 lines and about 200 miles of street railway. The cars are all of the "bob-tail" species, and there is no line, except on the lake trains, where a conductor is employed. The expense of hundreds of conductors being avoided shows an increase of dividends. In many cities car conductors have to be employed, for the people will not pay their fares. New Orleans is an honest community. The people either place their fare in the box or give it to the driver. No one rides free, except the Sisters of Charity and policemen.

STREET GUIDE,

Compiled from Official and Personal Surveys for

SOARDS'

NEW ORLEANS CITY DIRECTORY.

EXPLANATION.

The Guide gives the location of each street, and shows what other streets run from it, or across it, with the corner numbers at which they intersect as far as the houses have been numbered. The numbering of the houses begins from Canal street, running north and south, those running east and west begin from the river. Where there is more than one street bearing the same name, they are designated by the district in which such house is located. All streets formerly crossing Canal street by the same name, and numbering both ways from it, as Rampart, Basin, etc., are now designated and have been renamed; those below Canal street as NORTH RAMPART, BASIN, etc., and above Canal street as SOUTH RAMPART, BASIN, etc.

WHERE THE HOUSES ARE NUMBERED.

On any given street, the relative location of a particular place or house is found by running down the column of figures, which are its numbers at the several crossings of the streets that intersect it. The right and left hand numbers before crossing is given.

For Example—Wishing to know at what part of Canal street No. 124 comes, you look at Canal street in Guide you will find that 112 is on the corner of St. Charles street, and No. 136 is on the corner of Carondelet, so the number you seek will be between those two streets.

Where no numbers are given, the corners, and often the blocks, are vacant, or occupied by a house or manufactory not numbered, and where only one number is given the street does not cross.

WHERE THE HOUSES ARE NOT NUMBERED.

To find a given location, as Magazine, between Louisiana avenue and Delachaise, the Guide (see Magazine) shows the relative position of such house, and how many blocks distant from any one point on said Magazine street.

DESCRIBING LOCATION OF STREETS AND NUMBERS.

In the main, streets are described as being so many North and South of Canal street, or West of the river. This applies from Toledano to Esplanade and parallels (odd numbers on the right going from the river). Broad to river and parallels (odd numbers on right to Baronne, then even numbers on right for 1st Dist. side, going from Canal street, then odd numbers on the left for 2d Dist. side going from Canal street).

Streets beyond the above boundaries are described from the nearest prominent point.

DISTRICTS AND THEIR BOUNDARIES.

FIRST DISTRICT, is bounded on the North by Canal st., South by Felicity st., East by the river, and West by Felicity st. and New Canal.

SECOND DISTRICT, is bounded on the North by Esplanade st., South by Canal st., East by the river, and West by city limits.

THIRD DISTRICT, is bounded on the North by the lake, South by the river, East by city limits, West by Esplanade.

FOURTH DISTRICT, is bounded by Felicity and Toledano sts. and the river.

FIFTH DISTRICT, comprises all over the river, formerly Algiers.

SIXTH DISTRICT, comprising Jefferson City, Burtheville, Greenville, Bloomingdale, etc., is bounded on the North and West by the lower line of Carrollton and Marley avenue, South by the river, and East by Toledano st., and the river.
